Chris Daly has nearly 15 years experience in healthcare administration, consulting and strategic planning. His experience includes overall financial and administrative management for various healthcare practices, where he was instrumental in contract and merger negotiations, implementing cost-cutting strategies and identifying market opportunities to increase revenue.

His services to Decosimo clients include:

- Medical practice management
- Operational benchmarking
- Physician contracting and negotiation issues
- Statistical interpretation of survey data
- Physician compensation planning
- Physician/Hospital relationships
- Strategic planning and development
- Market and demographic projections
- Merger and joint venture exploration

Prior to joining Decosimo, Chris was the CEO of a local healthcare and business consulting company. He also served as the Practice Administrator for a family medicine practice and residency training center, as well as the Chief Information Officer for a community mental health center in Dalton, Georgia.

Chris is a member of the Medical Group Managers Association and a board member with the Chattanooga Technology Council, where he recently provided grant-writing assistance with a UTC grant. Chris, an experienced grant writer, has helped secure funding in excess of $40 million during his career.

Chris graduated from Cornell University and later earned his master's degree from Johns Hopkins University.
